Millar was a onetime chairman of the British Columbia Home Economists in Business Association and a guest speaker at numerous conferences across the country on home economics.

Custody: Custody was transferred directly from the creator.

Scope& Content

Beatrice Millar collected materials in support of her function as a home economist. The collection provides primary documentation of twentieth century trends in home economics, women's labour, and the domestic arts, with an especial emphasis on recipe compilations. The materials in this collection are by and large unpublished in any official manner; many were created as a function of corporate marketing and/or communications of proper use for emerging household technologies. The most predominant series within this aggregation of ephemera is that originating with BC Hydro, where Beatrice Millar worked as the director of the Home Services Department throughout the 1960s and 1970s.. Major themes treated include energy conservation, use of household technology, food procurement and preservation, and the culinary arts. The collection consists of the following series, articulated on a principle of provenance. Series are occasionally arranged into subseries according to warrant.

1. British Columbia – Crown Corporation Pamphlets (BC Hydro predominant)
2. British Columbia – Government Pamphlets
3. Canada – Government Pamphlets
4. Canadian and Provincial Marketing Agencies (Agriculture predominant)
5. Canadian Provincial and Municipal Utility Providers
6. Corporate Marketing Pamphlets
7. Unpublished Books
8. American Materials
9. Periodicals
10. War Time Pamphlets

Accruals: No further accruals are expected

Finding Aid: File and item list available. Aggregation is catalogued at the collection level (TX145 .B38 1911).

Arrangement note: This collection has been extracted from the Beatrice Millar fonds, which was donated to the University in the 1970s. The fonds has been divided as follows:

1. Beatrice Millar's archives (control no. RBSC-ARC-1379. See description at: <http://rbscarchives.library.ubc.ca/index.php/beatrice-millar-fonds>).
2. Beatrice Millar's photographs (control no. BC 1932, with description available at <http://rbscarchives.library.ubc.ca/index.php/bea-millar-photographs>).
3. Beatrice Millar's videotapes (control no. SP-VT3 through SP-VT6, with description available at <http://rbscarchives.library.ubc.ca/index.php/video-cassettes-2>)
4. Collected published books (cookbooks predominant, see list under additional catalogued author, Beatrice Millar fonds)
5. Collected ephemera, described in this document (Call no.: TX145 .B38 1911, stable URL <http://resolve.library.ubc.ca/cgi-bin/catsearch?bid=8276948>).

Taken together, the descriptions of these four components account for the entirety of the donation made by Beatrice Millar.
